

Nothing more to say

There's nothing more to say,
there's nothing more to say, yeah.
There's nothing more to say,
there's nothing more to say.

I love the smell in the air
after a summer rain shower.
I love when my friends would always be there
to forget all pain, all sorrow,
don't think about tomorrow.
don't think about tomorrow.

There's nothing more to say,
there's nothing more to say, yeah.
There's nothing more to say,
there's nothing more to say.

I love the first taste of cold water
when the sun is burning on my skin.
I love to see the first flowers
and the very first feeling of spring.

I love the smell in the air
after a summer rain shower.
I love when my friends would always be there
to forget all pain, all sorrow,
don't think about tomorrow.
don't think about tomorrow.

I love the first taste of cold water
when the sun is burning on my skin.
I love to see the first flowers
and the very first feeling of spring,
the very first feeling of spring.

There's nothing more to say,
there's nothing more to say, yeah.
There's nothing more to say,
there's nothing more to say.

I love the smell in the air
after a summer rain shower.
I love when my friends would always be there
to forget all pain, all sorrow,
don't think about tomorrow.
don't think about tomorrow.
There's nothing more to say ...
